

Our Master of Science in Disaster Resilience Leadership is the first and only of its kind. Students take 36 credit hours at whatever pace and in whatever order they choose.

CORE COURSES

COURSE TITLE	CREDITS
Human & Social Factors.	3
Disaster Operations.	3
Leadership & Economic Analytics	3
Environmental Infrastructure	3
Leadership.	3
Research & Eval. Crises in Disaster	3
OR
Program Eval. & Evidence-Based Social Work . . .	3
Data Analysis & Interpretation for Program Eval. Research.	3
OR
Quantitative Research & Analysis in Disaster	3

CERTIFICATE

If you're not sure about a full Master's degree or just want an addendum to your education, our Certificate in Disaster Resilience Leadership might be just the thing for you. Complete in just five classes, this graduate certificate is a flexible and affordable option for working professionals. Take it over five semesters or hammer it out in just one — it's up to you.

FLEXIBLE TIMING

Both the Master of Science and the Certificate in Disaster Resilience Leadership can be taken at whatever pace you desire. Plus, most DRL classes are offered in the evenings to accommodate working professionals.

ONLINE OPTIONS

Get the full benefit of a Tulane education from the comfort of your home. Our online programs are fully synchronous, meaning you'll be part of the TSSW family, no matter where you are. You can also expect personalized attention, including tech support, virtual office hours with faculty, and a full suite of online resources. Or, explore a hybrid experience with a combination of online and on-campus courses.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Tulane has a centuries-long legacy of academic excellence. We're a Research 1 University, a Top 45 Best National University, and the #2 University in the Country for Service Learning. We're known for our incomparable faculty, our multidisciplinary approach, and of course, our unbeatable location — New Orleans.

EXAMPLE ELECTIVES

COURSE TITLE	CREDITS
Intro to Emergency Management	3
Risk Management & Threat Assessment.	3
Geospatial Information Systems	3
Environmental Aspects of Disaster Management .	3
Psychosocial Aspects of Disaster	3
Collective Trauma	3
Disaster Mental Health & Trauma Intervention . .	3
DRLA Institute	3

Get more information and apply at:
tssw.tulane.edu

DISASTER RESILIENCE LEADERSHIP

You want to #DoWorkThatMatters. Our disaster resilience experts know how to make that happen. Unlock your leadership potential today.

The first U.S. institution to be admitted to the Global Resilience Partnership, Tulane School of Social Work's Disaster Resilience Leadership Academy provides a learning environment that values quality leadership, evidence-based practice, community-led solutions, and cutting-edge research.

- Only curriculum in the world with a focus on FEMA's Disaster Recovery Framework
- Focus on research for evidence-based practice
- Global framework with footprints in 38 countries
- Anti-imperialist, community-focused culture
- Opportunities to learn and generate knowledge alongside top-tier faculty and fellows
- Support and resources to ensure students succeed
- On-campus study in one of the best cities on the globe for disaster resilience work: the diverse and vibrant New Orleans

EARN A DUAL DEGREE

Created with the social worker in mind, our MS-DRL lends itself perfectly to a dual degree with Tulane's Master of Social Work (MSW). Adding as little as one semester to your degree timeline, the joint MSW/MS-DRL can be taken either Full-Time or Part-Time, online or on-campus. Our top-tier, fully-accredited MSW program specializes in integrated clinical and community-based practice. Plus, with over 700 field education partners across the country, you'll graduate with a well-developed resume and lots of connections.

GAIN A STRONG FOUNDATION

Offering courses on topics such as human behavior, direct and community practice, social justice, data analysis, and program evaluation, we teach tangible skills to empower individuals, families, and communities. We know that disaster resilience is multifaceted, which is why we require students to take electives from schools across Tulane, such as Architecture and Professional Advancement. We also know that the MS-DRL brings our students a wide variety of career outcomes, from emergency preparedness to city planning to nonprofit leadership.

LEARN IN A STUDENT-CENTERED PROGRAM

With Tulane's high-touch program, students have a choice in how they focus and engage. Choose between on-campus, hybrid, or online studies. Our online program offers the same curriculum via synchronous classes and faculty access.

VALUE CULTURES & BACKGROUNDS

Tulane teaches collaborative, culturally competent practices that prioritize responsiveness to diverse cultures, backgrounds, and environments. This enables us to engage in and train on competent, ethical, community-led resilience solutions.

TULANE UNIVERSITY
School of Social Work